Dear Reverend Jackson:

I am writing on behalf of Rod Blagojevich. Presently, Mr. Blagojevich is awaiting sentencing. We are in the process of collecting letters on behalf of Mr. Blagojevich, to submit to Judge Zagel. We are respectfully requesting that you write a letter on behalf of Mr. Blagojevich. I know that it was you and Mr. Blagojevich who helped free the soldiers in Serbia in 1999. Also, there were many policies, as Governor that Mr. Blagojevich instituted that you were in support of. For example, Mr. Blagojevich started the All Kids program, guaranteeing all children in Illinois have access to health care. He raised the minimum wage and approved free breast and cervical cancer screenings for women in the state. If you do write a letter, these are some of the things that you could write about.

Mr. Blagojevich is facing a sentence that will put him in prison for a significant amount of time. Any sentence will keep him away from his family, particularly his two young daughters during a very vulnerable time for them. A letter from you describing the good things that Mr. Blagojevich did and the good character traits he displayed could help in reducing any sentence Judge Zagel may impose.

If you are interested, I can give you more information on the logistics of writing such a letter. Thank you for your time and thank you for all the work you do in your continual fight for justice. The best way to reach me is via phone [REDACTED] or email agoldstein3@hotmail.com. I look forward to your response.

Sincerely,

Aaron Goldstein
Attorney for Rod Blagojevich
